

Policy on Additional Treatment for Complex Cases, Poor Healing, Persistent Symptoms, a Non-Restored Tooth, etc.:

Every patient's anatomy and healing process is different. We include two (2) treatment appointments in the cost of the root canal treatment. If a tooth requires additional time and resources because of a complicating factor, such as the removal of a broken file from the tooth or highly calcified canals, this is considered an obstructed root canal treatment and thus incurs another fee(s).

If a third treatment appointment is scheduled within the first year of treatment, the cost of that appointment is $615. We refer to this as a medication placement appointment and it often includes the use of either the GentleWave Procedure or additional laser treatment with medication and an X-ray. Please note that this is extremely rare with less than 1% of our patients needing a third appointment.

If a tooth needs to be retreated after at least one (1) year from the initial treatment, it is subject to the entire retreatment fee. If a tooth has not been restored in the recommended 2 to 4 week (or otherwise agreed upon) timeframe following the initial root canal treatment, then the tooth is also subject to the entire retreatment fee if that is found to be the reason the treatment failed.
